You can add an event list to your cv, like that:

| 09/15-02/18 | Master Degree in Computer Science. University of Salerno | 110/110 cum laude |

For shorter listed information, you can use a tiny event list, instead.

Since 11/20 Teaching support for the Computer Architecture course.
AY 19/20 Teaching support for the Computational Theory course.

What is really useful - at least for me - is the possibility to add a scattered bibliography to a cv. To do that, just type the command `\printbibliography[heading=none,...]`. You can also choose which entries of your bibliography to print using the parameter `keyword` - have a look at the documentation of BibLatex for that.
